Pine boughs and caps of servicemen circle an eternal flame above the final resting place of the nation's 35th president, who was assassinated two years ago today. Nation Recalls Slaying Of President J.F. Kennedy

Scars Remind Gov. Connally Of Nov. 22, 1963

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. John Connally planned business as usual today, but it couldn't be quite as usual.

For when he dressed this morning and ate breakfast, the governor was certain to remember that two years ago in Dallas President John F. Kennedy was killed and the governor seriously wounded by an assassin's bullets.

Connally remembers Nov. 22, 1963, as if it were yesterday. His scarred wrist, back and leg are a daily reminder of what happened that sunny afternoon as the sleek presidential limousine drove through cheering crowds.

"The crowd was immense and spontaneous. I thought the President was in high good humor. About the time we arrived in Dallas the sun broke clear and it looked like it would be a perfectly beautiful day," Connally recalled.

He spoke freely but with most eyes in an interview. He recalls the shots. The first struck the President and the second ripped into Connally.

"I remember hearing the third shot and knew that someone had been hit a fatal blow," Connally said. "There was blood all over me and the car."

At 48, Connally looks healthy. He is grayer than two years ago, but his features seem to glow. He has announced for a third term next year and is a solid favorite to win.

But the assassination left its mark. "I think about it almost constantly, every day," he said. "Can't properly use a fork with my right hand. I've tried lifting weights to strengthen it, but sometimes there is pain."

"I try not to consciously think about it, but every time I take a shower or go swimming, I see the scars."

DALLAS (UPI) — A wreath on the door of Trauma Room No. 1 at Parkland Hospital, where President Kennedy died, A Mass conducted by the Rev. Oscar Huber, who administered last rites to the fallen President. A ceremony at the downtown site where he was shot.

Such were the activities of a city that still feels the effects of the tragedy two years ago today.

Trauma Room No. 1 was closed at midnight and Chaplain Carl Nighswonger planned to place a wreath on the door and say a prayer at 8:30 a.m. CST (9:30 a.m. EST).

Many Memorial Services
It was in the 12-by-18-foot room that President Kennedy was pronounced dead after a team of doctors vainly worked to save his life.

Father Huber, who heard about the shooting on the radio and rushed to Parkland to administer last rites, planned to say a special Mass.

Marines Face Court Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (UPI) — Two young Marine Corps drill instructors face court martial today on charges of cruelty to eight recruits in their boot camp platoon.

Details of the charges against Sgt. Ronald A. Stewart, 24, of Parkersburg, Pa., Chester County, and Cpl. Jerry W. Nelson, 24, of Alva, Ky., were not released by the Corps before the trial began. The sergeant who supervised Stewart and Nelson was cleared of cruelty charges last week.

Parents of the eight young recruits once in Platoon 285 claim their sons were beaten, choked and slapped. All eight are from the South Carolina mill town of Great Falls.

A six-man court martial board cleared Staff Sgt. Clyde Cornelison, 29, of Cocoa Beach, Fla., the senior DI in the platoon. Stewart and Nelson were his assistants.

Maj. Gen. J. M. Masters, commanding officer of this recruit training depot, will decide after this week's court martial if Cornelison can return to duty as a DI.

The outcome of the court martial for Cornelison's assistants will be a factor since they were under his supervision. The acquittal given Cornelison was viewed as a morale boost to other DIs at Parris Island, one of two boot camps in the Corps.

Gibson Strikers Vote On Contract

GREENVILLE (UPI) — Members of the United Auto Workers Local 137 tonight vote on a tentative agreement with Gibson Refrigerator Co. where a strike, which idled 2,500 workers, has been in progress for three weeks.

Negotiators and company and union representatives hammered out the new contract agreement Thursday night after two day and night sessions. Plants in Greenville and Bleding are affected. Gibson is a Division of Hupp Corp. and the area's biggest employer.

President Johnson, who took the oath of office aboard Air Force 1, the presidential jetliner, planned to attend a memorial service at a Roman Catholic Church in Fredericksburg, Tex., near his LBJ Ranch.

The first of many memorial services was Sunday. One-hundred members of the Oak Cliff Councils of the Knights of Columbus attended a rosary and benediction at St. Cecilia Catholic Church. They also laid a wreath at the assassination site.

Trauma Room No. 1 was ordered closed for 12 hours out of respect to the President. But a hospital spokesman said it would be re-opened in case the hospital needs it to take care of an unusually large number of emergency cases.

Other Ceremonies
A hospital committee is in the process of deciding whether to make the room a memorial and put a commemorative plaque on the wall.

Another ceremony was scheduled by sponsors of the John F. Kennedy Living Center for Exceptional Youth, a haven for mentally retarded youth across the street from Father Huber's church.

An all-faith memorial was scheduled today at Temple Emanuel-El with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra the temple choir and the North Texas State University Choir providing music.

A high Mass at 7:30 p.m. EST was to end the official memorials.

Thousands of persons were expected to visit the site of the assassination, a busy street on the edge of Dallas' downtown area. Hundreds of thousands of persons have stopped there in the past two years, many to leave flowers, mementoes of sorrow, sympathy and admiration and to gaze upward and across the busy street at the Texas Schoolbook Depository, the gaunt, brick warehouse from which Lee Harvey Oswald shot the President.

Tributes of all sort are continually left on the grassy park near the assassination site. City workmen take them away when they get bedraggled and have filled a storage room of a city warehouse with such mementoes, including plastic flowers, figurines, plaques and hand-written notes.

Guard-Reserves Merger Opposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pressure from the White House would be sufficient to win House passage of the proposed merger of the Reserves and the National Guard, Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., said today.

"If the administration would get behind the legislation, as it has medicare, civil rights, and the farm bill, I believe it would pass the House," he said in an interview.

The only test so far has been before the military-oriented armed services committees, he said. Nedzi is a member of the House committee, and of the sub-committee where he alone

Seven Killed In Downstate Deer Opener

By United Press International
Seven Michigan hunters including a former police chief were accidentally shot and killed during the weekend, boosting the state's toll to nine since the deer season opened. Four others died of heart attacks, increasing the heart attack death count to eight. The hunting season opened nine days ago in the Upper Peninsula and last Saturday in the Lower Peninsula.

Elmer J. Boss, 47, former Zeeland police chief, was found shot to death early Sunday in woods near Bear Lake Township in Manistee County.

Jack A. Moore, 42, a patrolman in Hazel Park for 10 years, collapsed and died while in a cabin near Gaylord Friday night.

Kill Is Down
The deer kill in the Upper Peninsula is down compared to last year for a corresponding period, it is indicated by figures assembled by the Conservation Department at the Straits of Mackinac.

There were 9,455 deer and 91 bear taken out of the U. P. to 7 a. m. today, compared to 10,934 deer and 137 bear. The department believes the sharp drop in the kill may be the result of an early departure of hunters from U. P. woods.

There was one lost hunter in the U. P. and he was found about 10 p. m. Sunday in Turin Township, Marquette County. Raymond Leach, 17, of Rock, had been missing since 4 p. m. Saturday.

was hunting with his family at a lodge about five miles north-east of East Tawas when he was shot and killed by William J. Davis, 35, East Detroit, whose family owns a nearby lodge.

Davis said he mistook the boy for a deer.

George E. McKay, 62, Holly, was mistaken for a deer while hunting with his wife and killed in the Gladwin game preserve by a shot fired by Richard D. Gornley, 39, Flat Rock.

Homer M. Kotesky, 61, Clio, was in a hunting party eight miles east of Kalkaska, when he was shot to death with a bullet through the abdomen. Albert Sonck Jr., 29, who fired the fatal bullet, told police he was stalking a deer when he saw a motion and fired.

William Adams, 43, Sturgis, was shot and killed while hunting in the Huron National Forest north of West Branch by George Vukovich, 49, Monroe. Vukovich said he missed a deer with his shot and hit Adams.

Gun Misfires
Nick J. Stregas, 41, Flint, was shot to death when a companion's gun fired accidentally in Kalkaska County.

John Palecak, 59, Waterford Township, died of a self-inflicted wound while hunting near Clare.

Communists Flee In Jungle Clash

SAIGON (UPI) — An outnumbered battalion of Vietnamese rangers today fought off wave after wave of assaults by 2,000 Communist guerrillas in a raging battle 320 miles northwest of Saigon.

The ranger commander reported by radio that he could see the bodies of more than 400 dead and wounded Communists stacked up beyond the barbed wire surrounding the battalion base camp in Quang Ngai Province.

The battle was still in progress, according to late reports, as American air power, artillery and naval gunfire kept the Viet Cong regiment from overrunning the camp.

Biggest Communist Attack
U.S. military spokesmen said the guerrillas attacked with machineguns, recoilless rifles and small arms. The camp straddles national highway one 20 miles southeast of Quang Ngai City.

The fighting at the ranger camp was the largest of five Communist attacks reported today by American military officials.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — A series of explosions early today ripped the homes of four of the top Negro leaders of this city, including that of a United States Commissioner and the state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

No one was injured in the bombings that went off within minutes of each other shortly before 3 a.m. EST.

"They're trying to kill us," cried Kelly Alexander, the state president of the NAACP. "If this had been a frame home, they would have killed my children."

Police threw up a barricade around the area, a residential section of brick, ranch-style homes in the northwest section of Charlotte.

Detective Capt. William McCall assigned a team of officers to the blast area and would not comment.

The front of Alexander's home was blown out as was that of his brother, Fred Alexander, Charlotte's only Negro member of the City Council, who lives next door.

Other homes damaged belonged to Negro attorney Julius Chambers who recently was named a United States Commissioner for the Middle North Carolina District, and Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist.

Chicago Plane Crash Kills 4

CHICAGO (UPI) — A light plane crashed in thick fog south of here Sunday night, killing all four persons aboard. The red and white rented Cessna was en route from Detroit to Frankfort, Ill.

The victims were identified as Steve Gice, Chicago Heights, Ill., the pilot; George Clark, Dyer, Ill.; James Quick, Park Forest, Ill.; and J. R. Horiski, Homewood, Ill.

Authorities at Detroit City Airport said the plane left at 4:30 p.m. EST with a scheduled destination of Frankfort, Ill.

Mickey Vande Berg, 17, Park Forest, Ill., told police he and two friends were shooting rats in a city dump when they saw the plane bank gently and crash in an open field near suburban Chicago Heights.

Police said they were holding a man for questioning after five fires were set in different rooms of the three-story building around 1 a.m.

The fires, however, set off a sprinkler system and a fire alarm. Firemen said there was considerable water damage to the contents, but little fire damage.

The Sarnia police and Ontario provincial police would not reveal the identity or reasons of the man being questioned. They said entry to the building was gained through a window.

Dearborn Man Beaten To Death In Parking Lot
DETROIT (UPI) — A Dearborn man was beaten to death early Sunday in a parking lot at the rear of a Detroit bar.

The man, Maxwell Foley, 26, was beaten with a heavy, blunt instrument, police said. They said the instrument was either a shovel or an ax.

expressed feeling among some members that the merger, and the accompanying reduction in the number of reservists, amounts to disarming. He believes this dormant fear can be conquered.

"It overlooks the fact that we would be increasing our readiness," he said.

"It would cost $10 billion to equip all our present reserve units, and think of the cost of maintaining the equipment and keeping it up to date."

He believes the merger would assure the country of well equipped and trained reserves, prepared to do their assigned job if the need should arise.

In another combat zone, South Vietnamese infantrymen and American air power repulsed a strong Communist attack in the jungles 40 miles northwest of Saigon and killed 100 guerrillas, government military spokesmen said. Allied casualties were said to be light.

Authorities said two Viet Cong battalions, about 1,500 men, attacked a Vietnamese army regimental and artillery command post with mortar and machinegun fire before day-break.

Counter-attacking Vietnamese troops supported by U.S. Air Force planes smashed the assaults and the Communists fled, leaving their dead and wounded behind. One hundred enemy bodies were counted, a spokesman said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With an eye on the scheduled Gemini 7 space shot, federal mediators planned to try again today to settle the strike against the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., builder of the space capsule.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, scheduled bargaining sessions with representatives of McDonnell and the striking International Association of Machinists (IAM).

Sources said weekend sessions Saturday and Sunday made "some progress," but there was no indication a settlement was near.

Today's bargaining session was scheduled for 9 a.m. EST. The strike by nearly 17,000 IAM members began last Thursday when workmen walked out of McDonnell's St. Louis headquarters and four other installations, including Cape Kennedy. A prolonged strike could delay the scheduled Dec. 4 launching of the Gemini 7 spacecraft because McDonnell technicians are needed to check the capsule before launching.

To fill the gap, the company has sent 43 of its own supervisory engineers and technicians to Cape Kennedy to take over the work of the machinists who are on strike.

A major issue involved in the dispute is "job specifications." The IAM has claimed that "loosely drawn language" that kept some workers who perform high-grade jobs in lower job classifications.

The union also is requesting 20-cent-an-hour pay increase for each year of the contract. McDonnell has offered 9 cents, plus fringe benefits.

VIENNA (UPI) — Communist Romania emerged today as a possible mediator between the United States and North Viet Nam in talks to end the Viet Nam war.

Authoritative Austrian sources said Sunday the United States has approached Romania on the question and that Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer has discussed it in private talks with Austrian officials.

Maurer is concluding a six-day official visit to Austria today.

The sources quoted Maurer as saying his government was studying the mediation suggestion and might take diplomatic moves to bring the Viet Nam war to the conference table when it considered the time to be ripe.

Romanian sources in Vienna said "all real chances to end the Viet Nam conflict must be carefully considered and examined." But there was no official Romanian comment on the reports.

Informed Austrian sources said the initial talks on the possibility of Romania's becoming a mediator were held between U.S. Ambassador William Crawford and Romanian officials in Bucharest last June.

The visit last week by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and four other senators to Moscow and Bucharest was seen as further evidence of Romanian mediation plans.

Mansfield left Bucharest Sunday en route to Saigon.

It was pointed out that Romania is a "neutral" country within the Communist bloc which maintains friendly relations with the West. Sources said the Viet Nam war may have been among the subjects discussed by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu several weeks ago in Washington.

Warden Rides Getaway Car

NEWBERRY — For over a quarter mile Conservation Officer Alex McLean clung to the hood of a speeding car in an effort to halt a suspected deer law violator.

And he got his man, a woman, an illegal deer, and the car. The rough ride has hospitalized McLean, but it ended in a $100 fine for Jerry Troop, Newberry junk dealer, for illegal venison and a $35 reckless driving fine for his wife, Viola.

Conservation officials say Troop may face another charge when McLean gets out of the hospital.

It all started when McLean and Officer Bob Mordoo stopped the Troop car on a routine check. They saw blood on the trunk of the car and a shotgun on the back floor of the car. While Troop was being quizzed, he jumped behind the wheel of the vehicle and took off. McLean said he jumped on the hood to avoid being hit by the car, clinging to the windshield wiper brackets to hang on. Mordoo took off in pursuit and brought the car to a halt.

They got Troop out of the car and this time, they said, his wife got behind the wheel and Mordoo had to scramble to escape being hit. Again there was a chase for about six miles and the car was finally found near the Troop home. The trunk was pried open and a deer was found.

Officers said Troop may face an attempted assault charge.

Car Hits Truck Part On Roadway

David Gulch, 35, of Rapid River, escaped serious injury but complained of neck pain after his car struck a truck transmission which had fallen from a truck and was left on the U. S. 2 roadway in Nahma Township.

State Police of the Manistique post said the accident occurred about 6:30 p. m. Sunday. The underside of Gulch's car was badly damaged.

The transmission had fallen from a truck operated by Mildard Reno, 33, of Rapid River, which had broken down and projected partly onto the roadway, officers said. They noted that Reno had failed to display warning lights, or warning flag, and that the truck had defective brakes.

France Delays Satellite Shot

PARIS (UPI) — France today postponed its first attempt to orbit a space satellite, a reliable source reported.

The decision to put off the shot was made at a launch site deep in the Algerian Sahara, it was reported, but no reason was given.

Official sources at the French defense ministry would not comment.

Earlier reports said technicians were reading the countdown and that only the weather was holding up the firing of an 18-ton rocket carrying an 837-pound satellite from the Hammaguir test center.

The rocket will have more political than scientific value.

Although the orbiting of a satellite would technically place France in the space race with the United States and Russia, it was reported the shot was planned to give President Charles de Gaulle a prestige boost before the Dec. 5 national election.

The "A-1" satellite was planned to go into an orbit with a high point of 1,770 miles and a low of 340 miles above earth. It will have a radio life of about two weeks, sending performance data, orbit details and its internal temperature to a ground tracking network.

Two Gas Main Workers Die Of Auto Fumes

FLINT (UPI) — Two construction workers died today, apparently from carbon monoxide poisoning, while sitting in their car to keep warm until time to start work.

Their names were not immediately available.

Genesee County sheriff's detectives said the two men arrived at the construction site 15 minutes or so before starting time and apparently decided to sit in the car with the motor running.

Their foreman, Harvey Bluecher, found their bodies. The car motor was still running.

Detectives said the men were working on a gas main installation project about five miles north of here.

Long Measure

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — University of Texas football Coach Darrell Royal has revealed the Texans accidentally began their home season with a first down measuring chain 10 yards and four inches long.

The overlong chain has since been replaced and Royal refused to blame it as a contributor to the Longhorns' worst football season in years. "Both teams used the same chain," he noted.

Costly Shaves

MANILA (UPI) — Civil Service Commissioner Abelardo Subido ordered Manila policemen to shave their mustaches, which he said made them look more like hoodlums than cops.

At least three policemen who grudgingly complied with the order complained that their new clean-shaven look would probably cost them their off-duty jobs—as movie actors.

Young American Tried For Illegal Entry In Russia

MURMANSK, USSR (UPI) — A young American went on trial in this dark Arctic city today on charges he entered the Soviet Union illegally.

Newcomb Mott, 27, of Sheffield, Mass., entered the Murmansk Regional Court to answer charges which could bring a maximum sentence of three years on conviction.

Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Mott, who were in the courtroom when the trial began, said they had learned that the Soviet prosecutor plans to present evidence that Mott ignored written warnings against entering the Soviet Union without a visa.

It was the first trial in Soviet history of an American citizen on border crossing charges. No Soviet newspaper has reported Mott's arrest or trial so far, a sign the Kremlin does not consider the affair serious.

Robbers Invade Rectory, Shoot Priest In Arm

DETROIT (UPI) — Two men invaded the rectory of St. John Berchmans Church on the Detroit east side today and shot the parish priest during an apparent robbery attempt.

The priest, Father Dominic Monzo, 49, was taken to St. Johns Hospital with a bullet in the upper right arm.

Father Monzo told police the two white men invaded the rectory while he was eating breakfast. They said, "Don't move, stay where you are."

Then, he said, one of them fired a shot which hit him in the arm.

The men fled and Father Monzo called police.

Allegan County Tops List For Snow Removal

ALLEGAN (UPI) — Allegan County will receive the largest allotment of snow removal from the State of Michigan this year.

Allegan's $34,732 allotment even tops funds scheduled for counties in the Upper Peninsula. Allegan County is located in the southwestern portion of the state, next to Lake Michigan. There are 82 counties in Michigan.

Allegan had 113 inches of snow last year. The state average was 96 inches. It takes a fall of 70 inches or more to qualify for state funds.

The State Highway Department formula for distribution of funds also includes depth of snow and miles of state highway involved in the county.

The Basic Issue

President Johnson has made the United States aluminum industry rescind a two per cent price increase. The action is a victory in the Johnson Administration's fight against inflation and a defeat for democracy and especially the democratic free economy which has made America so rich.

When President Kennedy made the U.S. steel industry back down from a steel price increase in 1962 there was some national concern about the use of government power to control our nation's free enterprise system, but not enough so that the administration couldn't get away with its strong arm action.

Now it is the turn of the aluminum industry and the wonder must be who will be next?

It is imperative that the national administration fight inflation. Inflation would cheapen money and destroy its purchasing power while it inflated the value of goods. In its advanced form inflation would create economic chaos. Life insurance and pension funds would buy a cup of soup.

President Johnson must fight inflation and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, (a University of Michigan economist on leave) said that the price increases announced by the aluminum industry "have no justification under the wage-price guidelines and therefore are inflationary."

The aluminum industry had proposed to raise the price of the metal one half cent a pound to 25 cents a pound, which would still have left the metal one cent a pound under its 1960 peak.

But the government said that unless the price increase were rescinded it would release from its stockpile 300,000 tons of aluminum. The release would, of course, tend to unsettle prices and hurt the industry. The aluminum makers knuckled under.

They couldn't fight the federal government, their biggest customer, and Defense Secretary McNamara, who was the President's front man in this confrontation, then announced that the Defense Department would buy double its 1965 consumption in 1966 (15 per cent of the industry's production).

There's no cause for any public pleasure at this shotgun peace. It substitutes government coercion for the economic law of supply and demand which should set the price of aluminum.

The important point is that not only the rise of prices on goods is inflationary, but that rising wages—which cause the rising prices—are also inflationary, and so are the government's easy credit policy and its huge spending on the Great Society program.

The Johnson Administration made no protest when the aluminum industry—which is earning only 1.9 per cent on its investment although running at 100 per cent of capacity—had to raise wages 4 per cent, which shattered the administration's wage price guideline.

The situation smacks too strongly of political solution of a very serious economic problem to be accepted with anything but concern.

City Warms Up

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The young lady stepped out of her New York office building only minutes after the great Northeast power blackout had begun. Nearly 200 people were milling around on the nearest corner. Traffic was in a hopeless tangle.

Suddenly a man sprang from the crowd, moved into the intersection and began directing pedestrian and motor traffic. All over the stricken city, similar acts occurred. Young men peeled off their coats so their white shirts would make them more visible as traffic directors. Even a retired visiting policeman jumped into duty.

Young interns climbed 38 floors of an office skyscraper to seek out two known diabetics stranded there. Medical students fanned through the city, looking for emergency cases.

These are but a few of the unnumbered stories, many of them probably never to be known, which were unfolded during the long hours of blackness in New York.

What they seem to say is that the country's greatest city—marked by so many today as the great unmanageable jungle—somehow rediscovered its soul.

In the bewildering darkness, totally unexplained to many thousands trapped where no news could be heard, the shell of indifference was quickly shed. Strangers became helpful, comforting, joking friends. The city's smothering inhumanity vanished.

Twenty-seven years ago, on the night of Oct. 30, 1938, large numbers of people in eastern seaboard cities panicked badly when they misjudged a radio program simulating an attack on the earth by people from Mars. Americans thought they were literally under attack.

In this very real blackout emergency, there was no panic. The city's police and fire services labored with amazing calm to rescue hundreds of thousands from stalled elevators, trains, escalators. The people themselves plunged into volunteer effort on a grand scale.

The young girl who emerged from her office just as the blackout descended made her way home to her tall apartment building to find a friendly cluster of tenants sitting around the lobby, listening to the radio by candlelight. All night long a stream of people moved slowly over the East River's ancient Brooklyn bridge, like a refugee column leaving a bombed-out city. Patiently, they were heading home.

Not all the stories were heartening. Cab drivers deserted the streets in droves. Some who stayed on the job gouged their customers with exorbitant charges. Merchants did the same in selling flashlights, candles and other emergency goods.

But the tide was the other way. Suddenly jolted by the huge, impersonal mechanism that runs their city, New Yorkers found themselves.

The challenge which countless psychologists and social scientists tell us is missing from this and other American centers of affluence was miraculously thrust in front of them. They responded. In the darkness, they uncovered their best selves.

Collision Course

Best Educated Leaving State

Michigan's population is growing. Its unemployment rate is low. Everything looks rosy. Or does it?

A University of Michigan sociologist, David Goldberg, has just finished helping to estimate the 1964 population of each of the state's 83 counties and he has found that a disquieting trend has continued.

It is that more people are moving in. And the new arrivals are not as well educated as those departing.

U. P. Losses

The university's Population Studies Center of which Goldberg is associate director, has been estimating the state's population annually since 1957 with near-perfect accuracy. Its estimate for 1964 is 8,100,000—a 3.5 per cent gain from the 7,823,194 in the 1960 census.

The gain is all in births over deaths, not in people moving in.

Head Of Police Post Retires

EAST LANSING (UPI)—The retirement of a State Police post commander and the promotion and transfer of two other officers plus three straight transfers were announced Friday.

Col. Frederick E. Davis, director of State Police, announced that Robert J. Leonard, commanding officer of the Iron Mountain post since 1958, is retiring Dec. 10.

Leonard, 55, joined the department in 1937 and served at Ypsilanti, L'Anse, Manistique and Gladstone before being promoted to corporal in 1949 and transferred to St. Ignace. He was promoted to sergeant in 1958 and assigned to command at Iron Mountain.

Davis also announced that Sgt. Peter J. Burch of the Stoughton post, is transferred to Iron Mountain to succeed Leonard as commander.

Cpl. Henry Louwerens of Traverse City is promoted to sergeant and assigned to command at Stephenson.

Trooper Lawrence E. Holly of Flat is promoted to corporal and transferred to Traverse City.

Trooper Douglas L. Kennedy of Grand Haven is transferred to Erie.

Trooper Richard E. Perry of Erie is transferred to Grand Haven.

Mattress Burns, 4 Children Die

FLAT ROCK (UPI)—A small fire which consumed only a mattress and some blankets Friday night, resulted in the death of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bell of Flat Rock.

Authorities said the electric wires leading from an electric clock and a lamp shorted out on a bed frame and set the mattress afire.

Declared dead at the scene were Debbie, 7, Rickie, 5, Connie, 3, and Julie, 6 months.

Police said they were not sure of the details of the incident because the children's mother was in deep shock and hospitalized. They said she was unable to undergo questioning. Bell was at work when the fire occurred.

Of the 83 counties, 27 lost population in those four years. Eleven of the 15 in the Upper Peninsula lost. The remaining losses were chiefly in the northern Lower Peninsula. Most of the big gains were in metropolitan areas—the counties around Detroit and the Flint-Lansing area.

Bad Trade

But of more interest to Goldberg is the evidence that people are moving out. Net out-migration from 1960 to 1964 was 190,000 people. Hundreds of thousands more than this left, of course, but this is the net loss even after the arrival of hundreds of thousands of others.

From 1955 to 1960, according to census figures those who moved out of this region (east Northcentral) were generally better educated than those moving in. For example this region lost to the middle Atlantic states men with a median education level of more than 16 years—college graduates. Its gain consisted of men with a median level of 14.8 years in school.

To minimize age and racial differences this comparison is only of white males aged 25 to 29.

Though these figures are now five years old Goldberg finds the trend continuing. "We're still losing more than we're picking up," he says "and we're doing badly in the trade."

U.S.-enclerated vessels are expected to bring out a total of 2,000 additional refugees by the time the airlift starts, the spokesman said.

Civil Restitution

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—City Treasurer David A. Smith Friday received a $100 bill in the mail.

Attached was an unsigned note saying the money was "a recompense for equipment borrowed and not returned."

The Doctor Says:

Energy Foods Needed

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

The appetite of the teenager is often compared to a bottomless pit. Although teenagers need a lot of food during this period of rapid growth and high output of energy, a significant number suffer from nutritional imbalance, or even severe malnutrition. In the presence of an abundant food supply, a poor selection of foods may result in scurvy or an unhealthy obesity.

This may be the direct result of food fads, lack of proper instruction, carelessness or the following of personal preferences without regard to personal needs. Commonest faults observed in teen-age diets by trained nutritionists were an inadequate intake of vitamin C and iron and too great an intake of foods high in cholesterol—too little fresh fruit, too many milk shakes.

A tendency to eat too little food—slimming carried to excess—was more commonly seen in girls than in boys. The skipping of breakfast by girls is especially to be deplored.

Unfortunately, preaching to teen-agers, or trying to frighten them into good dietary habits, seldom helps and often makes bad matters worse. The wise counsel of a physician, who is sympathetic to teen-agers and has had some success in treating them, will often bring them back in line. Many

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI's personal appraisal of the Ecumenical Council now coming to an end is that "no other council in God's church has been held on such a scale or has done work in greater earnest and greater tranquility."

The historic religious gathering, with all major hurdles cleared, went into recess. Only three brief working sessions are left on the agenda prior to the official close of the Vatican Council Dec. 8.

One of them, the controversial Declaration on Religious Liberty, won final endorsement Friday. The others, to be promulgated after the Council finishes voting on them, are on the church in the modern world, on missions and on priestly life.

"This is the period for which each one must dispose himself," Pope Paul said. "Discussion is coming to an end, and understanding is beginning."

Cuban Refugee Airlift To U.S. Starts Dec. 1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department said Friday U.S. airlift of Cuban refugees now is definitely scheduled to begin Dec. 1.

A department spokesman said plans have been made for the government to charter planes from eight U.S. airlines to bring between 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a month to this country. The airlift will go on for an indefinite time period.

U.S.-enclerated vessels are expected to bring out a total of 2,000 additional refugees by the time the airlift starts, the spokesman said.

25 YEARS AGO

Total enrollment in the Escanaba public schools, considerably less than last year when the school opened after a two week delay due to the polio epidemic, is now only 13 less than last, according to a report made by school superintendent John A. Lemmer. Total enrollment this year is 2,847.

Private Herbert J. Lewis, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Russell Clark, 215 N. 18th St., writes that he completed his training course in the United States Marine Corps at San Diego and is now stationed here indefinitely, awaiting orders.

George Shomin, versatile Eskimo athlete and winner of two letters in his sophomore year, was chosen by his teammates to captain next year's Escanaba High School football team.

Nixon Accuses President Of War Appeasing

DENVER (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon accused the Johnson administration of "appeasing" in the Viet Nam war and told Republicans Friday night the attack on North Viet Nam must be stepped up.

Speaking before the largest political fund-raising dinner in Colorado history, Nixon called for increased American sea and air power in the conflict "so that we don't lose at the conference table what our fighting men are dying for in Viet Nam."

The unsuccessful GOP Presidential candidate of 1960 warned: "We must remember that the road to war is paved with good intentions of those who would appease aggression."

Nixon spoke to 1,200 persons who paid $100 a plate at a dinner honoring Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo. The proceeds will be used for Allott's expected bid next year for a third Senate term.

Ann Landers

Some Folks Just Need To Be Told

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my husband and I joined another couple for dinner at a very good restaurant. A teenage couple and their baby were at the next table.

Midway through our meal I was horrified to see the young mother unbuckle her blouse and proceed to breast feed her child right there in the dining room.

Two boys, about 14 and 15 years old, were seated at the next table with their parents. They didn't take their eyes off the nursing mother. Their parents finally changed seats with the boys so they would not be facing the "floor show."

I expressed the opinion that nursing a child in public was in very poor taste. Not one of our table felt as strongly as I did. Am I old-fashioned, crazy or what?—ALL ALONE.

Dear All: You are not alone. I'm with you. The person in charge of the dining room should have shown the mother to the ladies lounge. People who don't know better need to be told.

Dear Ann Landers: A recent column about fathers preferring male offspring to females goaded me into writing my first letter to Ann Landers.

Why do so many people assume that fathers want sons and not daughters? This theme has been driven into the ground on TV, in the movies, in jokes, novels and daily conversations—and it just isn't true. Many families yearn to have a girl and then get boys, boys, boys, and more boys. But we never hear about them.

My husband tells me that very few men are one way or the other. He says the "I want a son" routine is a little game the boys play. Any psychiatrist will tell you that the father-daughter bond is stronger than the father-son bond. Fathers may respect their sons but they adore their daughters—MOTHER OF BOTH.

Dear Mother: I've received a haul of mail on this subject and a little poem keeps cropping up—about 3,000 times I'd like to pass it along.

"A son is a son until he takes a wife."
"A daughter is a daughter all of her life."

Dear Ann Landers: I was ment stores put him to work when I was in my earlier and earlier every year.

late twenties. I have been married to my second husband for 18 years. They have been the happiest 18 years of my life.

About a year ago an interesting and lively couple with three children bought the home next door. The woman is attractive and 15 years younger than I am. (I am 50.)

At first I thought I might be imagining things but now I'm sure the neighbor woman is trying to throw me at her husband because she is interested in mine. She sets up situations so her husband and I will be alone and she tries to get my husband to help her mix drinks in the other room. Last night she said, presumably kidding, "If you ever get tired of Bob send him to me and take Harold."

Should I play dumb and continue to be friendly or would it be best to chop the friendship at once?—J.A.G.W.

Dear J.A.G.W.: Even without the problem you describe it's always best to be on a lukewarm invitation—only basis with your neighbors. Under the circumstances, however, I strongly recommend a subtle cooling and finally a permanent freeze.

No teen-ager is as confident as he appears. Get clued in. Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BIGMOUTH LAUGHED IT UP FOR A WEEK WHEN PAL FOOSTER'S TAX WAS TO BE SCRUTINIZED....

Reported by E. Palmer Hilde

WELL....NOT LONG AFTERWARDS, BIGMOUTH ALSO GOT AN INVITE TO OPEN HIS RECORDS....

THE TRAFFIC in grave blankets for big city cemeteries to the south is now in full volume. Here's a towering load of blankets made for Teal's Evergreens by Mrs. Leonard Niquette of Bark River, who is pictured with Nelson Larson of Teal's crew alongside the truck. The load has 650 blankets. The trade uses huge amounts of Upper Peninsula evergreens and provides work for hundreds of persons in late fall and early winter.

Hunters Fined For Violations

Oina Fallstrom, 54, of Rapid River Rte 2, entered a guilty plea in Justice Ross Davis' court at Gladstone on Saturday to a charge of killing a deer with the aid of artificial light.

He was ordered to pay a fine of $100, of which $50 was suspended, and $7.30 court costs. His hunting privileges were suspended for three years.

Conservation Officers Charles Bowen and Al Severinson arrested Fallstrom as he shot the deer from a cabin in Bay de Noc Township at 11 p.m. Friday.

Four Lower Michigan hunters pleaded guilty to game violations in Justice Ross Davis' court in Gladstone and paid fines and costs.

James Briley, 21, of Utica, was arrested by Conservation Department officers Nov. 16 in Nahma Township, charged with headlighting. He paid $50 in fine and $7.50 costs.

Robert Miller, 41, and Douglas Dunn, 39, of Fenton were arrested Nov. 20 in Garden Township and charged with carrying an unlicensed rifle in an automobile. Their fines and costs were $17.30 each.

Frederick Sauer Jr., 36, of Kalamazoo, was arrested Nov. 20 in Nahma Township and charged with carrying a loaded rifle in his car. His fine was $10 in addition to $7.50 costs.

Clifford St. Johns of Oconto Falls, Wis., who was arrested for reckless driving after conservation officers pursued his car at speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour on Oct. 22, had his case disposed of today in Justice A. J. Mortier's court at Gladstone.

Through an attorney he entered a no contest plea and was fined $75 and court costs of $4.30.

St. John's car was abandoned at the end of a woods road after conservation officers overtook the vehicle.

Joint Caucus Held In Lansing By Republicans

LANSING (UPI) — House and Senate Republicans, calling their colleagues back from deer hunting camps and committee trips, are scheduled to hold a joint caucus this afternoon to discuss the up-coming Dec. 9 session.

On tap for discussion will be the sticky questions of how to vote when majority Democrats try to override three gubernatorial vetoes of spending bills at the scheduled one-day meeting of the Legislature next month.

The three bills—additional tax relief for disabled veterans, tax relief for elderly renters, and additional appropriations for eight state colleges and universities—were vetoed by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken Oct. 28 when Gov. George Romney was on a trip to the Far East.

Romney, who said he and Milliken were in "full accord" about the action, is expected to meet with the GOP lawmakers today to ask them to support the vetoes by not giving Democrats the four votes they need to override them.

NELSON LARSON of Teal's Evergreens holds up a grave blanket for the photographer. These blankets are a winter covering for graves. Made of balsam, or of pine boughs, they are decorated by the greenhouses which buy them with floral items and some are inscribed with memorial labels. The blankets sell at retail for from $8 to $20, depending on the decorations. (Daily Press Photos)

Gasoline Station Attendant Killed In $123 Robbery

FLINT (UPI) — A service station attendant was shot and killed early today during a robbery.

The victim was Lyle C. Fogal, 36, Mount Morris. He was found mortally wounded on the floor of the service station in Genesee Township just northeast of here.

Two men whose car broke down with a broken fan belt discovered the wounded man. As they entered the station, Fogal moaned, "help me, help me."

He was dead on arrival at Hurley Hospital. Police said he apparently was shot by a 30 caliber rifle.

They said about $125 was missing from the cash register.

Riot Quelled

ADEN (UPI) — British and Arab troops used tear gas Sunday to break up a riot that followed the slaying of an Arab — apparently by extremists of the National Liberation Front.

The riot erupted after a group of young men marched toward the shopping area shouting anti-British slogans. A Jewish-owned bar was set afire during the melee.

Eight-Car Train Assembled To Move Eisenhower

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The doctors, nurses and military men who have hovered around former President Dwight D. Eisenhower since he suffered two mild heart attacks recently prepared today to move their famous patient to Washington.

Railroad officials were putting together an eight-car train to move Eisenhower and his entourage safely and as quickly as possible to Walter Reed Hospital. The Army laid down strict security arrangements for the move, scheduled to begin tonight.

A lost collie, a young female, is being held for the owner by Delta County Sheriff's officers after the dog was turned over to them Sunday afternoon.

The dog was roaming near a hunting camp at Rapid River and was brought to the sheriff by C. L. Muntwyler of Chicago. Muntwyler asked that the dog be kept for five days and that if it is unclaimed he will return for it.

The Wells Cub Scouts will meet tonight at 7:30 p. m., in the basement of St. Anthony's Church. Members are reminded to bring their space derbies as a race will be held. Race awards will be given to the winners.

Thanksgiving will be observed on Thursday this week and there will be no garbage collections in Escanaba on that day, Kenneth Tushak, public works superintendent, announced today. The garbage pick-up ordinarily made on Thursday will be made on Friday and the Friday pick-up will be made on Saturday.

Ira Smith, 500 S. 1st Ave., has been employed by the City of Escanaba as a meter reader to fill a vacancy. He is 49 years old and graduated from Escanaba High School in 1934. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Nick Grisk who accepted a job with the federal government.

Although Escanaba's snow removal ordinance does not become effective until Dec. 1, residents will do well to get their autos off the street in event of a storm, said Kenneth Tushak, public works superintendent. Snow plowing is almost impossible if cars line the streets.

Buildings Seized By Revoltors In City Of Santiago

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Armed groups seized seven buildings in city of Santiago early today and proclaimed Alcibadi Espinosa president of the Dominican Republic, reports reaching here said.

The reported action in Santiago, the country's second city about 100 miles northwest of the capital, followed the arrival there Sunday night of U.S. troops.

Other troops of the Inter-American Peace Force were deployed in various strategic positions in the northern and western sections of the nation during the night amid continued reports a coup was being planned.

The provisional government of President Hector Garcia Godoy apparently was continuing to function.

NUCLEAR NOTABLE—Canal digging has come a long way since the early days of the Panama Canal. Photograph shows a nuclear explosive canal digging technique being used on a scale model of the 46-mile Sasaki-Morti route through Panama. The area is one of the frequently mentioned routes for a new trans-isthmian canal. Using the new method, a series of trenches is excavated on a leapfrog basis. A second series of detonations would excavate the remaining sections to form a continuous sea level canal.

Big Cities Get U.P. Yule Trees

Michigan is probably the largest producer of Christmas trees in the U. S., accounting for nearly 10 per cent of the total output.

By 1980, the state's production should double as Michigan's output of Christmas trees jumps to 12 per cent of the national total.

These projections are part of Project '80, a futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential by 1980. This study on Christmas trees is being conducted by Michigan State University scientists Lee M. James, Department of Forestry, and Aubrey Wylie, Department of Forest Products.

The MSU researchers point out that Michigan produced nearly 6 per cent of the national output in 1955 and nearly 10 per cent in 1963. Their projections assume a slower rate of growth in the future—an increase of only about 2 per cent in the next 15 years—because of the increasing competition from other states which have moved into Christmas tree plantations in more recent years.

The projected total of 6.2 million trees is nearly twice the 1962 output, however. The scientists estimate that Michigan residents buy about two million trees per year. The rest of the trees are sold out of state.

Michigan production is moving increasingly into the national market—a trend which is expected to continue in the future.

Jack Ruby Has Spot In History

DALLAS (UPI)—Whatever happens to him, the balding little man who always wanted to be a big shot will have his place in history.

On the morning of Nov. 24, 1963, Jack Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald in the basement of Dallas City Hall before the eyes of millions of persons watching on television. He sealed forever the lips of the man who assassinated John F. Kennedy, the President of the United States.

For this, Jack Ruby was sentenced March 11, 1964 to death in the electric chair. He has been in an isolation cell at Dallas County Jail since. Defense attorneys have come and gone like men through a revolving door.

Last Oct. 1, for the former striptease joint operator was indefinitely pending appeals by his present set of lawyers to overthrow his conviction.

Trial Judge Joe B. Brown has left the case and has written a book about it. District Judge Louis Holland of Montague, Tex., has taken over.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who prosecuted Ruby, says he would recommend commutation of the death sentence.

Ruby, now 34 and looking fit, has said only that:

"I am going down in history as the most despicable person who ever lived."

Star-spangled way to sweeten up your future

The old American proverb says, "Money isn't everything, but it sure helps."

And that goes double for the money you put in U.S. Savings Bonds. Because this money helps two ways.

First, it helps your future. Putting youngsters through college. Building homes and summer cottages. Buying cruises for you and the spouse. You dream it, Bonds can deliver it.

Second, it helps your country now, by making Uncle Sam a stronger income in an unsettled world.

Your fellow Americans have tucked over 47 billion dollars into U.S. Savings Bonds. Why not join them? There's no safer investment anywhere in the world.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get 3 1/2% more money when they mature (7 years, 9 months)
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen

Hints From Heloise

Old Towels Aid In Floor Mopping

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I found an easy and efficient way to mop my hardwood floors:

I tore a fairly large, old bath towel in half, and sprayed it with a dust-catching preparation (to make the dust cling to the cloth).

Place the sprayed portion of towel flat on the floor, then just flop your mop head on top of it, and dust away.

You'll be surprised at the ease and speed with which the dust is picked up, since the towel covers so much more space than the mop would. And it is much easier to shake out (and wash).

When you come to a hard-to-reach place, just shove the towel piece into the space with your foot.

By using pieces of towel under the mop, the mop will stay clean, and all you'll have to wash are the towels, themselves.

They are easier to wash, and they dry so much faster than the mop itself will.

Marge

Letter Of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

As I went into the bathroom this morning "to put on my face"—

Avid Reader

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever made too much cream of wheat, or other cooked cereal?

Don't throw it away. Keep it covered in the refrigerator until the following morning.

The cereal can be reheated by covering with water in a sauce pan, and mashing it with the potato masher, while simmering over a low flame.

Mrs. E. Saltzman I tried your hint with cream of wheat and it worked. Thanks.

Know what else? I pour my leftovers in a jelly glass and let cool. Next morning, I slice and dip it in flour, then fry? Great.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have found a fast and easy way to polish silverware. I put on my rubber gloves, dip a couple of fingers in my paste-type polish, and rub away.

When my gloves get black, I rinse them under running water, and start over again.

This way, I can clean and polish my silver beautifully, with no cloth to get messy and dirty, and my hands and fingernails stay nice and clean, too.

Jean S. Coleman

Dear Heloise:

I use receiving blankets for night diapers after my babies are out of the infant stage (I've had five).

I fold the blanket in thirds, lengthwise, and then in half, adjusting the folds to the size of the baby.

Dear Heloise:

I've often thought how much more thoughtful we would be if only we had more time!

With this in mind, and knowing how little folks love to receive packages in the mail, I set a few hours aside occasionally to gather up and wrap little boxes for mailing to nieces, nephews, and little friends. This way it takes only an hour or so to wrap enough packages for several months.

Don't wait for just birthdays or Christmas—send them often. What seems like junk to us, is fascination for small fry.

Keep an eye open for cute five-and-dime party favors. What look like special groovy party favors to us, are darling little umbrellas to them—I speak as the mother of five. Put a little tag under the string or ribbon on each package which you have wrapped for mailing, so you'll know exactly what each box contains, and remove it before mailing. Jean C.

Jean, I think you are just wonderful.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Since I make the majority of my own and my daughter's clothes—plus mending—you can bet my sewing machine is always busy, and full of lint.

I keep a small, nylon pastry brush in my machine drawer, and whenever the lint collects, I simply sweep it off. Works marvelously!

Mimi Kalman

Dear Heloise:

I love to cook, and trying new recipes is one of my favorite pastimes—but I have so many cookbooks that I could never remember which recipe was in which book. It finally occurred to me to tape a large sheet of paper inside the door of the cabinet where I keep the recipe books. When I try a recipe, and know I'll want to use it again, I just write down the name of the recipe, cookbook, and the page number on which it appears.

When I want to make almond chicken, Hungarian goulash, or what have you, I just glance at the sheet of paper, and reach for the right cookbook.

No more looking through half a dozen or more books to find the recipe I want.

Mrs. W. L. D.

Dear Heloise:

The clothes sprinkler I like best is one I made by using a five-cent sprinkler (with cork around the base), and putting it in the opening of a plastic liquid detergent bottle. It is squeezable, and holds enough water to dampen my basket of clothes without refilling.

Mrs. E. R. Murphy

Dear Heloise:

The simplest and easiest way to change worn Venetian blind cords is before they break.

Start by cutting the bottom of the cord where the knot is tied, and tie your new cord on to this knot!

Tie, sew, or tape the new cord to the end of the old one. After cutting the old cord, you can draw it out at the same time you are threading the new one.

Cathy Fite

We tried it, and it works! Let your Venetian blind down, look on the bottom and find the knot. Cut one side of the knot and tie your new cord to it.

While the blind is still hanging in the window, pull the new cord, and let it run until the old one drops out of the other side. You will know then how much new cord is needed. Allow a few inches, and work from there.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When people get the big head no amount of dieting will decrease THAT portion of the anatomy once it has become inflated.

Clare

Dear Heloise:

Belts on dresses we purchase are often not long enough, making it necessary to use the hole nearest the end of the belt when fastening the belt over the dress. This makes the belt too tight and uncomfortable.

Before wearing a new belt (which is too short), I remove the buckle and sew a short piece of heavy elastic onto the end of the belt, then sew the buckle onto the other end of the elastic.

When the belt is worn, the elastic does not show, since it is covered by the lap of the belt.

Margaret C.

Dear Heloise:

To keep from losing hair-bows, tape up a piece of ribbon, and clip all the bows to the ribbon.

This will make the bows look neat, and you will not lose them.

Joanne Albini

Age 10

Joanne, you're a dolly to send us this wonderful hint!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Brushing with nylon net does wonders for colorful pants.

The secret is to do most of the brushing while the slacks are damp. I do mine at the clothes line, so the lint can fly away in the breeze. The net raises the nap, and the slacks look like new.

C. Corbin

Dear Heloise:

After a day at the sewing machine, I don't feel like stooping to pick up pins.

I tied a magnet on a string, and use it to pick up the pins which have been dropped on the floor.

Iona

Dear Heloise:

We separate, or "chink style," a head of lettuce, once it is washed, with our fingers and not with a knife.

A knife used in preparing lettuce for the table is what makes lettuce appear rusty or brown-edged.

Bob Marcavage

Dear Heloise:

What's the easiest way to make beds? I am worn-out after doing this chore.

Mother: Don NOT waste your energy HERE trying to be a perfectionist.

Never, ever walk around a bed more than is necessary to straighten sheets, blankets, spreads, etc.

Completely make one side of the bed, straightening all the coverlets FIRST, and THEN walk around to the other side and smooth out all the remaining wrinkles.

If necessary (if you have a king-sized bed), you can walk back around to the side you made first and straighten out the coverlets once more.

After you do this a week or so, you will see how much energy you are saving, and won't do it any other way. WHY do you think hospital nurses use this method? (I was a Red Cross nurse's aide during the war, and learned it then.)

Remember, Hon, that a bed does not have to be made absolutely perfect. The little wrinkle left in your sheet today, will be in a different place tomorrow.

And, if you stop to think about it, when we pull down the covers each night, we usually give the sheet a whack-and-a-brush with our hand.

I wonder why we waste energy doing that? And I have yet to see a woman who doesn't...)

If you don't give the bottom sheet a smart slap with your hand, just whipping off the bedspread alone, will eliminate the few wrinkles that are there. Try this and see—it works.

Let that bedspread do the work for you, and save your energy for peeling potatoes, ironing, etc.

One woman wrote a while back and said, "Heloise, before I get out of bed, I stretch real big, grab the tops of the covers, and kick my legs up in the air under the sheets. This gives a whoof of air under the covers, and I pull them real tight towards my neck. I slide gently out of bed, and the bed practically makes itself."

Know what? I laughed about that! But it works, and it's a grand exercise and eye opener. You'll often white letters of laughter. Here's one for you that might not be a letter of laughter in some cases.

One sweet gal said, "If you don't make a bed by noon, forget it, and crawl back in for a few hours...or close the bedroom door so your neighbors won't see it. By that time hubby will be home, so turn the bed down instead of making it. It's far easier."

Anyhow, don't worry about making a bed perfect.

Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When using the food grinder for nuts, raisins or glazed fruits, when baking, just add a little flour while grinding the goodies.

This keeps them from sticking in the grinder.

E. M. Howard

Dear Heloise:

I am a teen-ager who is very fond of clean, white WOOLEN bobbie socks. My Mom does a good job, but she doesn't have the time to do my socks AND all the other wash.

Socks that become tan or orange after being washed, have either been washed in too hot water or have been put into bleach.

I have found a simple solution for this:

When my Mom is doing the wash, I put my socks in the stationary tub where the washer will empty the hot, soapy water. After they are covered with this water, I rub the real dirty spots with a bar of soap.

I then gently press the water from them and put them in a basin of cold water to which I have added a cup of white vinegar.

I leave them there until it is time for the washer to go into the final rinse and spin. Then I toss them in and let the washer do the rest. When the cycle stops, my socks are sparkling white and practically dry.

I find this method works best if the socks are not worn so long that they become grey!

Eileen C. Neill

Dear Eileen: Try (after wetting white cotton socks) pouring scouring powder on the soles, scrubbing with a brush, letting set 30 minutes, then letting them run through the complete cycle.

Good, too.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I was right when I spied my old faithful helper, a wad of nylon, on the sink when I was trying to remove the wax from my kitchen floor.

No scoured fingers either.

Happy Housewife

Yes, we get this all the time. You were right. Be sure to test your net, ladies. Some purchases are just not the best now.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I read the item about using a piece of sponge for padding the faucet to prevent broken dishes.

I had the same trouble so I took a white rubber eraser (such as we use on chair legs to protect floors) cut the thick bottom part of the eraser and slipped the ring part on the end of the faucet.

Works fine.

WHEN IN ROME—But because they were doing what Romans aren't supposed to do—clutter up the Spanish Steps—they ran afoul of the law. Police were called in to check papers and clear the area when bearded, long-haired types, called "zazzaroni" in Roman slang, began congregating at the Italian capital's famed landmark in such numbers that they crowded out the usual crowds of tourists.

Venereal Cases Show Increase

CHICAGO (UPI)—A startling rise in venereal diseases among teen-agers was blamed today on increased sexual promiscuity, lack of medical knowledge among practicing physicians and the declining effectiveness of the penicillin cure.

Those were the major factors cited today in speeches at a national symposium on venereal disease sponsored by the American Medical Association (AMA).

Reports of syphilis cases have risen more than 300 per cent in the last eight years to rate of 1.1 million a year, the AMA said.

Gonorrhea cases among teen-agers number 250,000 annually. One of every five venereal disease cases is a juvenile.

Doctors warned the number of venereal cases was probably much higher. Dr. Joseph L. Logan, Warren, Ohio, said, "perhaps only one of every 10 cases is actually reported."

It was thought until recently venereal diseases could be easily cured by penicillin injections.

But Dr. William L. Fleming, chairman of the American Social Health Association's Committee on Venereal Diseases, said "The long-feared development of penicillin-resistant gonorrhea has actually occurred and increases steadily in degree."

Kidney Research Funds Provided

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The federal government is going to spend $556,735 to finance establishment of artificial kidney centers in four areas of the nation.

The Department of Health Education and Welfare said Sunday that grants would go to Mt. Sinai Hospital, Cleveland; the University of Virginia Medical School, Charlottesville; Emory University Medical School, Atlanta; and the Minneapolis Medical Research Foundation.

Paintings Stolen

MILAN (UPI)—Police recovered three stolen paintings Sunday worth a total $320,000 and arrested four men in connection with the theft. By coincidence, the paintings were recovered hours before the Milan-Inter Soccer Game. They were stolen before the same game last year from the home of collector Mario Basconi while he and his family were at the stadium.

Youth Service Boys Cited By Detroit Police

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Police Department Sunday honored 156 boys who have served as members of the Youth Service Corps since last summer.

The boys have donated 7,500 hours of their own time helping the police in volunteer work. They are part of an experimental program conducted by the Juvenile Delinquency Control Training Center of Wayne State University.

Many of the boys, taken into the group mainly from high crime areas of the city, had minor records but none has committed a major offense since becoming part of the corps. No boys with serious offenses were admitted to the group.

Deaf Girl Feels Fire Vibrations, Saves 3 Lives

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Rosemary Gibson, 18, who is deaf, was credited Friday with saving herself and two small children when fire swept the home where she lives.

Rosemary felt vibrations while asleep Friday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Straight. She went down to the lowered furnace room door and felt the door burning.

She grabbed the two Straight children, ages 3 and 2, ran to a neighbor's home and had them call the fire department.

While the call was being made the windows in the Straight home blew out onto the lawn. The furnace had exploded. Damage was estimated at about $3,200. Lost in the blaze was a new wardrobe the Straights had bought for Rosemary.

Midway Returns

ALAMEDA NAVAL AIR STATION, Calif. (UPI)—The attack carrier USS Midway is due here Tuesday after eight and a half months of combat off Viet Nam.

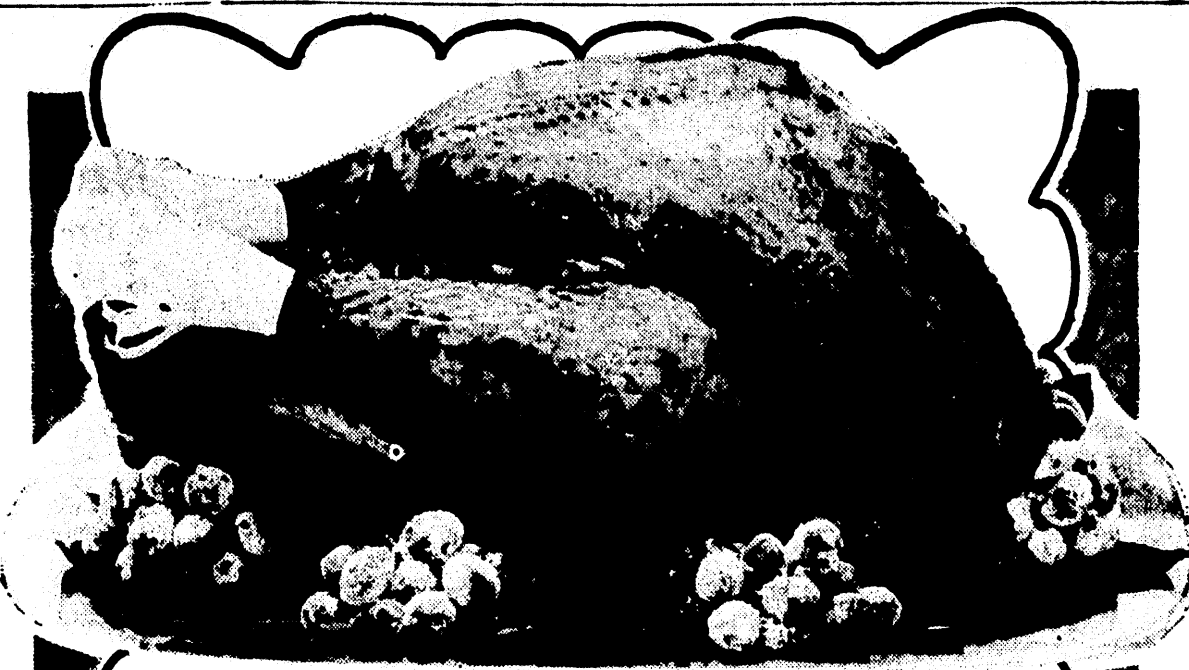

The Midway's 70 planes flew a total of 11,938 sorties and dropped 16 million tons of bombs on targets in North and South Viet Nam. Seventeen planes were lost in combat and 13 pilots killed.

In June, aircraft from the midway shot down three Soviet-built MIG 17s over North Viet Nam—the first Mig kills of the conflict.

The Insurance Information Institute reports that 80 to 85 per cent of all cars stolen are taken by non-professional thieves, mainly juveniles.

Cranberries Color Surprise Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Cranberries! Yes, inevitably. But how about using them in a dessert for a change. This cranberry cheese cake recipe may encourage you to switch. For those who like to include a rather "dressy salad" in the menu, the pineapple cranberry wreath salad recipe may be good news.

Cranberry Pink Cheesecake

(Makes one 9-inch cheesecake)

Crust:

2 cups zwieback crumbs

(1 6-ounce package)

2 tablespoons sugar

1/2 cup soft butter or margarine

1/2 cup well-drained cranberry-orange relish

Filling:

2 packages (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin

1 1/2 cups cranberry juice cocktail

1 pound (two 8-ounce packages) cream cheese at room temperature

1/2 cup sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla extract

2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Red food coloring (optional)

Mix zwieback crumbs with sugar and butter. When well blended press mixture onto the bottom and sides of a well-buttered 9-inch spring form pan. Spread cranberry-orange relish over the bottom of the pan. Combine gelatin with 1/2 cup of the cranberry juice; let stand for 5 minutes. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Beat cream cheese until smooth and fluffy. Gradually beat in cranberry gelatin mixture, sugar, vanilla and lemon rind. Fold in beaten egg whites and whipped cream. Add red coloring if a deeper pink is desired. Pour mixture into crumb-lined pan. Chill until firm. Remove sides of pan carefully, after loosening with a sharp knife. Garnish with additional sweetened whipped cream and cranberry-orange relish.

LONG WAY FROM HOME — Thundering Niagara Falls provides a strange new setting for a familiar feature of the British capital—a double-decker bus. A Niagara Falls, Ont., firm has imported three of the double-deckers from London for its tours and business has been so good that another has been ordered.

Mental Illness Facilities Lag

LANSING (UPI) — State Mental Health Director Robert Kimmich told the Michigan Mental Health Advisory Council there has been a sharp decrease in the number of adult patients in state institutions.

However, Kimmich said facilities and services for mentally ill and emotionally disturbed children have not kept pace with demands.

"The number of children has increased but demands for services have increased in even greater proportion to the total population," Kimmich said.

He said there are 2,291 fewer resident adult patients in state institutions now than three years ago.

Administrative and clinical reorganization and increased patient services, he said, were responsible for cutting down the number of adult patients in state institutions.

Space for mentally ill children is a major problem, Kimmich said.

The waiting list to get children into state institutions "has been shortened by only 17 children in the past three years," he said.

"Existing special education programs, day care centers, consultation services to community agencies and other programs must be expanded, in communities where these services are not available they must be developed," Kimmich declared.

The waiting list for child guidance clinic services showed a "marked decrease during the current calendar year, down 671 from a high of 2,341 in March," the report showed.

Kimmich said waiting lists for mentally retarded children have increased steadily since World War II because of many reasons, including longer period of hospitalization, inadequate number of professional trained people and not enough facilities.

However, he said, with the addition of new programs and federal legislation to aid the department, it is expected the demand for services will decrease.

Kimmich also proposed that the state provide a network of small residential living units for retarded individuals in communities throughout the state to take the pressure off of major state home and training schools.

ST. JOSEPH (UPI)—Ground was broken Friday for a new $239,000 terminal at Ross Airport which serves St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

Third English Girl Wins Title Of 'Miss World'

LONDON (UPI)—Lesley Langley, a 21-year-old model, Friday night became the third British girl in five years to win the British-sponsored "Miss World" contest.

Her victory provoked prompt reaction from American promoter Alfred Patricelli, who thought the title should have gone to Dianna Lynn Batts, 19, of Falls Church, Va., who was second.

"I fully expected Dianna to win," he complained after the show. "This really looks bad, with three British girls having won in five years."

"There ought to be a more international panel of judges," he said.

The nine-member panel judged 48 entrants in the contest sponsored by Mecca Productions, which provides a contract, a screen test and a $7,000 cash prize to the winner.

Grape Growers Cashing In At $197.37 A Ton

LAWTON (UPI)—The National Grape Cooperative Association members in Southwestern Michigan will receive the highest return for 1963 crop grapes ever paid out by Welch Grape Juice Co. at its plant here under the deferred payment plan.

The average payment for grapes delivered two years ago will be $197.37 a ton. Final payment for the crop will be made in 1966.

Under the cooperative's deferred payment plan of making installment payments to growers as the juice is sold, payments for the 1963 crop were made in 1963, 1964 and 1965 preparatory to final adjustments.

Growers already have been paid $141.66 a ton on the 1961 crop with other payments to come.

Michigan Cherry Promotion To Be Held In February

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI)—Utility firms and Sears Roebuck & Co. will conduct a massive, nationwide cherry promotion campaign in February.

The announcement was made by Sears officials, who said 741 utility firms are cooperating in the promotion.

Gov. Romney has proclaimed February as Cherry Month in Michigan and the month also is National Range Sale month which will be observed by the utilities.

Packers Shake Slump

Unitas Returns To Pace Colts To Eighth Win

By JEFF MEYERS
U.P. Sports Writer

Johnny Unitas had a tough act to follow, but the old trooper drew nothing but praise for his performance.

The 10-year National Football League campaigner sat out last week's game against Minnesota and substitute quarterback Gary Cuozzo turned in a five-touchdown passing act to lead the Colts to a 41-21 triumph.

But Cuozzo was in the wings Sunday, watching Unitas toss a pair of TD aerials to power Baltimore to a 34-24 victory over Philadelphia.

Johnny U. showing no signs of the back injury that sidelined him against the Vikings, set up the winning touchdown and led the victory with a 22-yard paydirt toss to Jimmy Orr, who had re-entered the game following a visit to the hospital to check a bruised leg.

"Unitas got through the game in grand style and finished strong," said Baltimore Coach Don Shula, who watched his charges win their eighth straight.

Unitas Pass

Baltimore had taken a 17-7 lead on a 52-yard pass from Unitas to Lenny Moore, a 36-yard romp by Jerry Logan with a puffed aerial and a 36-yard field goal by Lou Michaels. But the Eagles, who had scored earlier on a 15-yarder from Norm Snead to Pete Retzlaff, tied the game at halftime on a three-yard run by Ollie Matson and a 37-yard field goal by Sam Baker.

Michaels sent Baltimore off to a 20-17 lead as the second half began but Philadelphia took a 24-17 advantage into the final quarter when Snead fired a six-yard strike to Ray Poage. Unitas, however, took charge in the fourth period, hitting Tom Mackey and Ray Berry to set up a one-yard go-ahead TD by Moore and later found Orr in the end zone to keep the Colts on top in the West with a 9-1 slate.

In other games, Green Bay remained one game behind the Colts by drubbing Minnesota 38-13. Cleveland continued to roll to the Eastern Division crown by whipping Dallas 24-17. Chicago edged Detroit 17-10. New York shocked St. Louis 28-15. San Francisco shaded Los Angeles 30-27 and Washington belted Pittsburgh 31-3.

Bart Starr broke out of a passing slump by firing three touchdown aerials and the vaunted Green Bay defense played its usual tough game, recovering four fumbles and stealing two Minnesota passes. The Vikings led 13-10 entering the final quarter but the Packers turned four miscues into 28 points to win their seventh game against two setbacks.

15 Touchdowns

Jimmy Brown scored his 15th touchdown of the campaign but it was headsup play by the Cleveland defense which provided the triumph. Bernie Parrish, Vince Costello and Ross Fichtner came up with touchdown-saving interceptions for the Browns, who lead the East with an 8-2 record. Cleveland's Leroy Kelly returned a punt 67 yards to disappoint a Cotton Bowl record crowd of 76,251.

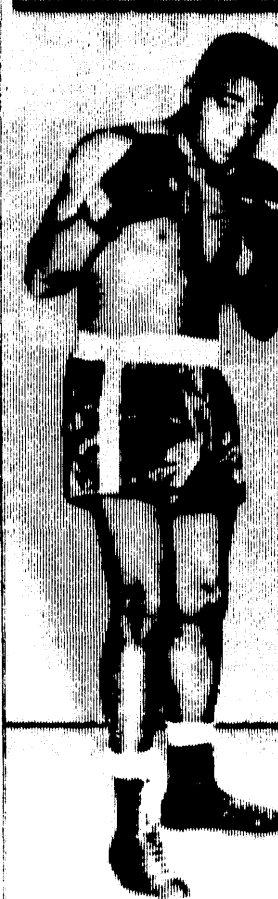

Gale Sayers broke a 10-10 tie by sprinting 20 yards to cap a 77-yard Chicago drive in the opening minutes of the second half. The Lions scored first when Tommy Watkins set up the TD by racing 74 yards to the Chicago six on the opening kickoff. Jon Arnett knotted the game at 7-7 by galloping 24 yards after Chicago recovered a fumble and Roger Leclerc booted an 18-yard field goal for the Bears.

City League Meets Tonight

A meeting of the City Basketball League has been scheduled for tonight at 7:30 at Club 314. Plans for the coming season will be made and rules will be discussed.

Eight teams are expected to enter and games will be played in the Junior High School gymnasium on Monday and Wednesday nights. The entry fee will be $25 per team to cover gym rental fees and trophies. The program is for adults and young men out of high school.

CLAY

All The Chips Ride On Cassius Tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Floyd Patterson, the only boxer in history to regain the World Heavyweight crown, will attempt to accomplish that feat for the second time tonight when he engages the brash titleholder, Cassius Clay, in a 15-round fight at the Convention Center.

It seems fitting that the 30-year-old Patterson is prepared to make the biggest "bet" of his professional career here in this gambling capital of the United States, where there are no clocks and no curfews.

All the chips, though, are stacked in front of Clay, the 23-year-old, unbeaten blabbermouth from Louisville, Ky., who won boxing's richest prize from Sonny Liston in 1964 and scored a record 60-second knockout over big Sonny in a farcical exhibition at Lewiston, Maine, May 25.

The odds makers, and there are many to be found in this desert playground in southern Nevada, still are quoting Clay as a 3-1 favorite. It's 6-5 (pick em) that either Patterson or Clay will be knocked out inside six rounds.

Floyd's KO
The official weigh-in was scheduled for 11 a.m. (2 p.m. EST) today at the modern Convention Center where Patterson suffered his second humiliating one-round knockout at the hands of Liston two years ago.

A sellout crowd of 8,300 paying up to $100 each for ringside seats, will be on hand when these two men of sharply divergent boxing styles and religious beliefs square off at approximately 7:30 p.m. (10:30 p.m. EST).

It has been estimated by Sportsvision, Inc., which owns the entire ancillary rights to the fight, that a half-million fans will pay their way into more than 200 theatres and arenas in this country and Canada to view the battle on closed circuit television.

The same closed circuit telecast will be beamed via the Early Bird Satellite for "live" viewing in private clubs and theatres in seven cities in England and Scotland. These fans will have to stay up late or get up early, for it will be almost 3 a.m. in Britain when the fight starts.

There will be no home television of the bout in the United States but it will be broadcast over the American Broadcasting Company (ABC) radio network.

Patterson will enter this most important fight of his 14-year professional career with a double mission. The impassive New Yorker wants to wipe out the memory of his two "quickie" knockouts at the hands of Liston. He also insists that the Black Muslims, of which Clay is a devout member, actually own Cassius and the championship, and he feels it is his duty to break up this conspiracy.

The Muslims' reported influence on Clay and the crown cropped up again Sunday during a Patterson press conference.

"Harassment War"
Patterson denied again that

Nahma Ends Loss String

PERKINS — The Nahma Arrows snapped a 21-game losing string here Saturday night, spilling in Yellowjackets by a 60-55 margin in Central League action.

The victory was the first for a Nahma team since the Class D district tournament at the close of the 1965-66 season. The Arrows lost in the tourney to Cooks, 72-66, then dropped 19 straight games last season and their first start this season to make it 21 in a row.

Rick Schafer paced Coach Seb Rubick's cagers with a 27 point production, followed by Rick Mercer with 11 and Steve Ritter with 10.

The Arrows won it from the free throw line where they connected on 18 of 31 attempts. Perkins outscored Nahma by four field goals, but Coach Julian Vandecaveye's cagers were able to convert only 3 of 24 from the charity line.

Both teams sported four point leads at times in the stretch and Perkins blew a pair of golden opportunities in the final half minute of the game by missing the first of one-and-one free throws. Perkins narrowed the gap to the final two point margin when Mark Depuydt hit a field goal at the buzzer.

Reggie Depuydt led three Yellowjackets in double figures with 18 points.

In the preliminary game the Holy Name freshman team defeated the Perkins jayvees, 49-40.

Coach Harold Johnson's Escanaba Eskimos will attempt to chalk up their second straight victory of the young basketball campaign when they play host to the Marquette Redmen Tuesday night.

Spartans Smash Irish To Snare National Crown

By United Press International

The only other major bowl with an empty berth is the Bluebonnet, and Syracuse, Tulsa, Utah State, Auburn and Wyoming are the major contenders to fill the vacancy.

Missouri is Florida's opponent in the Sugar Bowl. Louisiana State faces Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl, and Texas Tech meet Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl.

First Half Mistakes
Michigan State overcame first-half mistakes with a rugged defense and a fast, powerful offense last Saturday to beat fourth-ranked Notre Dame 12-3. The Spartans gave up the ball twice on fumbles and once on a pass interception in the first half as Notre Dame grabbed a 3-0 lead on Ken Ivan's 32-yard field goal.

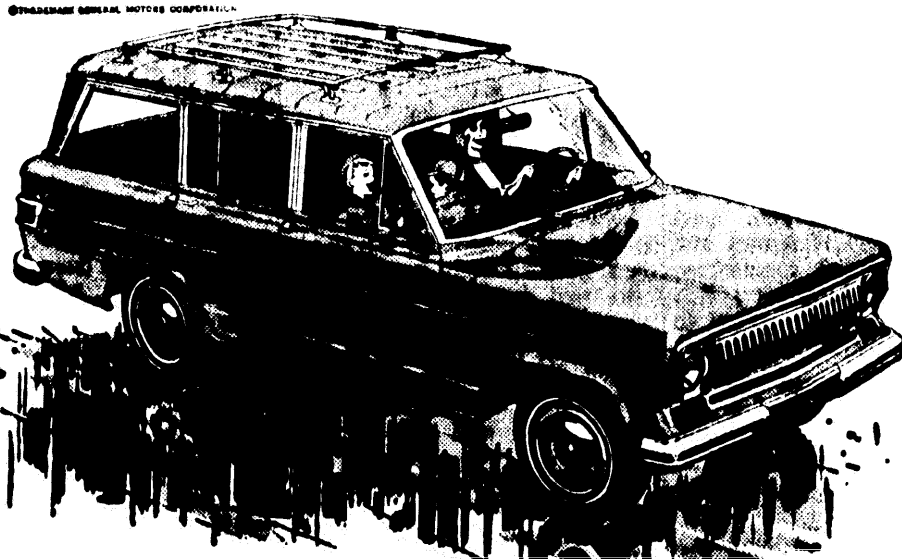

Track star Clint Jones, who led the Spartans' attack, scored the first Michigan State touchdown on a three-yard run, and quarterback Steve Juday hit Dwight Lee with a 49-yard pass for the other, Michigan State rolled up 286 yards total offense while its stingy defense allowed the Irish only 12 yards.

Bowl Decision
The Rose Bowl must decide on either UCLA or Southern California as an opponent for Michigan State. Southern Cal, which lost to UCLA 20-16 last weekend, winds up on Saturday in the Orange Bowl, while Alabama, the other Orange Bowl team, engages Auburn on Saturday. Georgia Tech, a Gator Bowl choice, tackles Georgia as Florida, picked by the Sugar Bowl, takes on Florida State Tennessee, which has accepted a bid for the Bluebonnet Bowl, still has two games left against Vanderbilt and UCLA.

UCLA is the clear-cut champion of the Pacific Eight Conference by winding up with a 14 conference record after Kansas 44-20, 10th-rated Purdue 34-20 over Southern Cal. But UCLA lost to Michigan State 26-21 and Dartmouth wound up the 1965 season's opener and season with a 9-0 record with a chance of an upset in the Rose 28-17 victory over Princeton. Bowl are even slimmer. Both which also entered the game Southern Cal and UCLA have 7-1 unbeaten and untied. Alabama and Nebraska were idle.

Bears Top Detroit Lions In Penalty-Filled Battle

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Lions shocked everyone in Tiger Stadium Sunday afternoon by scoring a touchdown in the first 72 seconds of play.

And then they shocked no one, by sliding back into a punchless, dead-end road to defeat and falling before the Chicago Bears, 17-10.

The only threatening noises the Lions could make were made by the defensive squad, and these were threats against the Bears' offensive team after the game had turned into a rough and tumble contest of personal embitterments.

A total of 24 penalties were called in the game and there were enough yellow penalty flags on the field to make it look like a dandelion garden most of the afternoon.

Watkins Scampers

The Lions had startled Chicago when Tommy Watkins took the opening kickoff and rambled 94 yards from his own goal line. He finally stumbled and was brought down on the six yard line of the Bears.

On the second play from scrimmage, just 1:12 into the game, fullback Amos Marsh blasted around left end for a three yard gain and a Detroit touchdown. Wayne Walker kicked the extra point and the Lions led, 7-0.

Those first 72 seconds provided the only glimpse of glory Detroit was to see the rest of the day as they promptly proceeded to destroy themselves with fumbles and ineptness.

Late in the same first quarter the Lions mustered up a rally that carried them from the 49 yard line of Chicago all the way down to the six. Watkins carried the ball into the line and appeared to be crossing the goal line but he fumbled the football and it was recovered in the end zone by linebacker Dick Butkus of the Bears.

In the second period Detroit opened the door for Chicago to go into the lead when Bobby Smith fumbled a Bear punt on the Detroit 24 yard line and Mike Reilly recovered for Chicago.

Arnett Scores For Bears

The Bears knew exactly what to do with the break and sent halfback Joe Arnett on a 24-yard scoring jaunt over right tackle.

Chicago added another score on a field goal about four minutes later, taking a 10-7 lead on Roger LeClair's 18 yard boot.

The Lions moved 54 yards late in the second quarter on a pass from Milt Plum to Nick Pietrosante but could go no further and finally, on fourth down, Wayne Walker came in and kicked a 37 yard field goal which left the game 10-10 at the intermission.

Detroit opened the second half by kicking to Chicago rookie Gale Sayers on his own goal. He returned the kick to the 23 and then picked up 10 on the first play from scrimmage. Fullback Andy Livingston moved the ball 25 yards around right end on the next play and Detroit had to take a 15-yard penalty on a roughing the passer call a couple plays later.

The sensational Chicago

speedster, Sayers, then spurred around right end and eluded three tacklers for a 20-yard touchdown run which wrapped up the win. It was the sixth, with four losses for the Bears, leaving them alone in third place in the NFL's Western Division.

Detroit's final opportunity to score was wasted when Plum twice sent Pietrosante into the line, for a total gain of 4 yards, and then passed incomplete on third down. Pat Studstill kicked to the Bears on their own 14 and the ball never returned to Detroit.

The total of 24 penalty calls included 126 yards against Detroit and 73 against Chicago. The 126 against Detroit included two 15-yarders in the closing minutes against defensive tackle Alex Karras for unsportsmanlike conduct, levied for remarks he made to the referee.

Detroit is now 3-5 for the season, in a tie for fourth place.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The closed circuit telecast of the Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title bout tonight will be carried to 196 locations in the United States and Canada and eight more in England. The fight is being televised by Sportsvision under the direction of Frederic Brooks.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joseph A. Bonner of Mount Vernon, N.Y., has been elected commodore of the New York Athletic Club, Yacht Club. William A. Schwarz, Jr., of Pelham Manor, was elected to the post commodore and Robert F. Bakof, also of Pelham Manor, to the office of rear commodore.

WESTBURY, N.Y. (UPI)—Trainer-driver Stanley Dancer will be presented the proximity achievement award at the 17th annual United States Harness Writers' Association dinner-dance, Nov. 28, at the Hotel Commodore in New York City. The 38-year old Dancer has earned an estimated $900,000.

Experts Wrong; Favored Purdue Finished Third

CHICAGO (UPI)—The prognosticators couldn't have been more wrong about the Big Ten football season.

Michigan State, which figured to lose a couple, is heading into the Rose Bowl as Big Ten champion, conqueror of Notre Dame and claimant to the title as best in the land.

Pre-season favorite Purdue closed the season in a third place tie with Minnesota and possession of the Oaken Bucket.

Pre-season dark horse Iowa wound up in last place with its poorest season in history, and Coach Jerry Burns already handed his dismissal slip.

The Hawkeyes couldn't even win their finale for Burns, succumbing to North Carolina State 28-20.

Michigan State put aside first half fumbles and interceptions and went on to punch Notre Dame 12-3. The statistics were far more convincing in the Spartans' favor.

The running of John Kuzniowski and the passing of Bob Griese helped Purdue keep possession of the bucket from Indiana 28-21. The Hoosiers' season under new Coach Johnny Pont wasn't much better than the other mediocre ones of the past.

Jim Grabowski of Illinois took the three-year conference rushing record from Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, who took it in 1953, as Illinois beat Northwestern, 20-6. Grabowski had 2,106 yards for three years, and 998 for the season, also a conference record.

Ohio State beat Michigan 9-7 on Bob Funk's 28 yard field goal with 75 seconds left.

Halfback Dick Peterson and quarterback John Hankinson led Minnesota over Wisconsin 42-7 to give Badger Coach Milt Bruhn one of his worst seasons.

The Milwaukee Braves, who are heading for Atlanta in 1966, drew 555,584 home fans in 1965. It was the low figure in the National League.

The Oilers didn't score until the last period when quarterback Don Trull led from the three and halfback Jack Spikes went up the middle from the 13.

The win was the fourth in a row for the Oilers as they had lost their first five and tied their sixth. The loss dropped the Oilers into third place in the Eastern Division.

Namath Is Star As Jets Romp Over Houston

By United Press International
Six months ago Joe Namath was a $400,000 gamble. Today he's a sure bet to be one of the top quarterbacks in the American Football League.

Sunday Namath hit on 17 of 26 passes for 217 yards and four touchdowns to lead the New York Jets to a 41-14 romp over the Houston Oilers.

The win moved the Jets into second place in the AFL's Eastern Division and just about wrapped up the Eastern crown for the Buffalo Bills.

In other AFL action the Boston Patriots and Kansas City Chiefs played to a 10-10 tie while the Oakland Raiders kept their slim hopes of Western Division glory alive by beating the Denver Broncos 28-20.

Buffalo and San Diego were idle.

Going into the game, Namath ranked fifth in the league in passing with 77 completions in 177 attempts for 1,017 yards and eight touchdowns. Although the official league statistics haven't been released yet, Sunday's performance is certain to move him at least into fourth place, ahead of Houston's George Blanda, and possibly into third place.

Namath has a season total of 94 completions in 196 attempts for 1,234 yards and 12 TDs. Namath connected with scoring strikes of four and 34 yards to Don Maynard, hit George Sauer with a 20 yarder, and found Curly Johnson with a six-yard toss.

Jim Turner added field goals of 18 and 31 yards and Kern Carson ran one in from four yards out.

Business Week Publisher Sees 15-Year Boom

ST. JOSEPH (UPI)—Bayard Sawyer, publisher of Business Week magazine, predicted here that the next 15 years will be boom years and the best era of the 20th century.

Sawyer forecast a gross national product of $1.2 trillion by 1980 in his address before the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan.

Sawyer also predicted the auto boom will continue because of "the great love affair between the average American and his car."

He said most businessmen think Gov. George Romney of Michigan is considered a "liberal businessman," and many would back him for President.

Sawyer added he is sure the business community favors Romney over Richard Nixon as the GOP nominee for the presidency.

Auto Ignition Saver Developed

CHICAGO (UPI)—Norman Industries, Inc., Chicago said Friday it has developed a unit which converts automobile ignitions.

"It is designed to . . . extend point and plug life up to 50,000 miles or more," a spokesman for the company said.

The spokesman said the new system, called Fail-Safe, allows the points to make and break contact without being damaged by high voltage.

BACK FROM SPACE—It isn't always true that what goes up must come down, particularly when you're talking about space shots. But this insulation panel from an Atlas/Centaur rocket did make it back to earth in fairly good shape. Design engineers at General Dynamics' Convair plant at San Diego, Calif., examine the panel, recovered from the Atlantic 10 days after launch.

Soo Area Judgment From Smits

Fowling, Trout Fishing Most Ardent Of Sports

BY LEE SMITS

Duck-hunting and fly-fishing take the strongest holds on gunners and anglers who get involved. The traditions, the lore, the gear of wildfowling; the variety of species and methods and habitat background; retrievers, boats, decoys, blinds, marshes, big water flooded timber — all these engage a duck-hunter. He may be temporarily diverted by grouse, deer, pheasant but most of the time he would rather be where ducks are flying, watching ducks, than to be hunting any other game.

Among these fervent sportsmen the big question right now is: Can ducks come back?

It deserves a forthright answer — Yes — and No.

Never again will multi-millions of ducks cloud the flyways. Duck-producing wetlands have been so drastically diminished for the heaping up of surplus grain that no amount of restoration can retain more than a minor percentage of the duck factories existing a half century ago.

With Floyd Schemenaur District 4 game manager from Newberry Conservation Department headquarters, checking duck bags as the season opened on Munuscong Bay, below the Soo, Munuscong is a shallow bay, opening off St. Mary's River, drawing flocks of green birds, fresh from the breeding grounds. We were guests of George Andary of the Soo in his luxurious cabin on Munuscong River and we had the help of veteran hunters in what they call the Soo Evening News club, close by on the river.

Men with memories, such as George Osborn, editor-publisher of The News, and Freeman MacCreedy, veteran News man, could tell of a time when it was nothing unusual to fill daily bag limits of 25 ducks on Munuscong Bay in mid-October. The Dodge brothers had their famous club there, now a state park.

Schemenaur hailed shooters, returning upriver from the bay. Examined, identified, aged and sexed all ducks killed. Then compiled his notes in the evening. In the space of 100 man-hours, 11.7 ducks bagged; 9.2 ducks bagged. In general a hunter spent ten hours in the blind to kill one duck.

What Schemenaur didn't put down in his note book was the fun, companionship, outdoor uplift the hunters got for themselves per man hour. That seemed to be equal to our total benefit when Jim Hendryx and I put 50 ducks a day into the boat on Munuscong.

Schemenaur and I made no attempt to shoot, but we had a big time with a pair of Canada jays that came to the door for hand-outs. In two days afield we saw more Canada jays than would ordinarily be sighted in Michigan in a year. We could cook up no explanation for this mystery.

As for the yes-and-no answer; there are good signs that there will be more ducks in '66. A bird or two added to the bag limit, maybe. Snow run-off and rainfall on the prairies permitting, with a fair number of breeders northbound in the spring. Yet even if a miracle could bring back the millions, shooters wouldn't be much better off, because there isn't space enough on the feeding grounds along the flyways. A duck-hunter needs a lot of room. Forty acres of marsh, let's say, for two men. Half a square mile of lake for sneak-boat or lay-out.

Mallard can be easily hand-reared in any numbers. Pinnated redhead rear broods in the Detroit Zoo and other zoos. State or federal game farms could produce marsh ducks and

Fan Of Soccer

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Football, South American style had a new fan today — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The touring senator was so enthused after watching the soccer game between Brazil and Russia Sunday that he broke a date with Secretary of State Dean Rusk so he could visit the players in the locker room. He is a touch football devotee.

divers in abundance, but to what end?

In theory, regulated shooting should permit all the ducks that the breeding grounds can carry to nest each spring.

There is also the factor of "diminishing endeavor." The fewer ducks there are, the smaller the legal bag limits, the fewer hunters will exert themselves to get out and shoot.

What seems likely is a stabilized wildfowl population, a moderate number of gunners — including, of course, a percentage of what the British call "marsh cowboys," sky-shooters who scare off a score of ducks for every one they kill, or more likely, cripple.

Canine Capers For Gift List

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rover can really have a doggy Christmas this year, if his owner takes a hint from a pet food company which has drawn up a list of canine gift suggestions ranging from a "doggie wig" to match his mistress' hair to dog perfume called Kennel No. 9.

For the pooch who has everything, Rival Pet Foods, Inc., also recommends:

—A doggie style status corduroy kerchief, designed to cover the back of the dog's head, keeping it warm. The kerchiefs can match the pup's coat or sweater.

—"Personalized" dog tags with simulated birth stones.

—Elaborate collars with rhinestones and simulated pearls.

—24K gold chains, leads and necklaces.

Thief Swallows Share Of Loot

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Walter Cunningham, 52, one of four suspects in a $126,000 San Francisco jewel theft, admitted that he swallowed his share of the loot after being arrested by police.

He was rushed to a hospital where attendants took appropriate action to "relieve" Cunningham of the evidence. Police recovered 65 brilliant cut diamonds, 27 baguettes and other small chips, a large emerald, a 20-carat ruby and a small emerald clip.
